VOTERS CONSIDER NEW ADDITION AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING TONIGHT

EDITORIAL DCJ

According to the school budget the total cost of operating and maintaining Old Rochester Regional High School proposed for 1971 is $1,230,541. This compares to the 1970 figure of $1,064,061. Total enrollment of pupils in 1970 was 1025 and now is up to 1032(Oct.1). Simple arithmetic shows a staggering increase in cost compared to the number of pupils benefitted.

This same cost/pupil ratio now faces a test in the Mattapoisett elementary school system.

It is no longer a case of a heavy burden. It is now serious. If the school system continues unchecked, the community will be drained financially.

There is an important vote tonight at a Special Town Meeting beginning at 7:30 at Old Rochester's Bristol Auditorium. The town of Mattapoisett will consider a proposal to build a school addition to Old Hammondtown costing $910,000.00. Old Hammondtown was designed to accommodate 250 pupils and 300 are now accommodated by using office area. Essentially, these 50 surplus pupils prompt the action even though they are now well housed at Old Hammondtown.

The enrollment figures for Center School (kindergarten through Grade 3) show an enrollment for 1970-1971 of 338 pupils as compared to a projected total of 399 for 1971-72. Old Hammondtown enrollment for grades 4 through 6 for 1971-72 is projected at 299 from the 1970-71 figures of 285. This elementary school increase (in projection) is a total of 25 pupils.

It is not a good idea to have any memory when confronted with statements given out in school building brochures. At the time Old Hammondtown was proposed and voted, it was with the understanding that the core of the school was sufficient for the completed school. It was understood that to complete the future part of the school, classrooms alone would have to be built to the existing structure. Why, then, are we confronted with a plan that contains a gym? Why are we asked to throw away money on a facility which is not necessary? I was told that the Commonwealth demanded that gym. Why was this so when the Commonwealth had to approve the original building plan which showed both present and projected classrooms, which utilized the present giant gym, auditorium, cafeteria, room in the core. There is also a question about why this unneeded gym was increased to a 1/3 greater size at the request of the Sports Committee at an additional cost of $50,000.00. Since the core already contains a giant gym , which can be divided by a wall into two good size gyms, why is the Sports Committee so cramped that they have to have a duplicate adult size facility for the town to build, maintain and heat at great and continuing expense? I would like to see this superfluous expense justified on the Town Meeting floor. Just the extra building cost of this gym will be $50,000.00 plus interest over 10 years. People are still waiting for town water in various sections of Mattapoisett for want of a sum less than that. They've been waiting for over 100 years. Just think how many mud holes of streets could be paved for that sum of money. Whv is the school system granted money in this case when taxpayers are straining to provide really vital services that have to wait for years for lack of funds?

Just a month ago, Governor Sargent was in Washington and he testified, "Our back is to the wall". Yet the Commonwealth he heads is forcing us to waste money on an unneeded gymnasium. If this were not bad enough, a sports committee is granted an additional $50,000.00. It is things of this kind that force me to great caution. I want to hear an awful lot about the investigation of the present school facilities which led to this plan. The present cost of educating a single pupil in Mattapoisett is $631.37 on the elementary level. for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1970. If we build a $910,000.00 school on the present surplus of 50-100 pupils what will that figure climb to? The Old Rochester cost per pupil for the same period was $969.54. We are reaching that point when some serious thought has to be given to economy in our school system, just as we practice in every other department for our Town government, except that we are prevented by the State from exercising control. Serious trouble is ahead because we have given over control to the state level in exchange for "free","matching funds".

If Old Hammondtown's additional 10 classrooms are added will those classrooms be filled by artificial means? By that, I mean will they be filled by reducing the size of the classes

What will be the yearly projected budget for the 10 new rooms - salaries, maintenance, utilities, heat and supplies?

How will this total, plus the payments on building principle and interest be reflected on the tax rate?

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

WHY?

Old Hammondtown School has a very large gymnasium. An addition is now planned to to be voted on and we are told that, to meet State requirements, we have to include a small gymnasium. Then I understand, at the suggestion of the Sports Committee, it was decided to expand this to a full size adult gymnasium adding an additional expense of $50,000.

So, we have to vote on another school that property owners cannot afford that includes another gymnasium that we not only can't afford but don't need. It is decided, for us, to expand the unneeded gymnasium into an even more costly full size unneeded gymnasium. I ask, "Why?"

Education, as welfare, should be paid for on at least the State level from income tax revenue. It is dishonest, selfish and vicious to put most of the load on home owners. So let those who are planning more endless expenditures get themselves and their organizations to back a State takeover of financing; this to replace the present dismal, lackluster and reckless effort that can only annihilate home owners.

FEBRUARY IS AMERICAN HEART MONTH! HEART FUND DOLLARS DEVELOP NEW LIFE SAVING METHOD _ 'ECPR'

This is the third and final article in a three-part series presented by your Heart Association to inform readers of this newspaper about the urgent need for prompt medical help in the event of heart attack.

Following heart attack, one's chances of survival are infinitely greater in a hospital than in your home, even though the hospital may not be presently able to render heart monitoring service.

Almost all hospitals have equipment to electrically control a faulty heart rhythm. Further, they are equipped to administer medications designed to correct complications, as well as to utilize a new technique known as external cardiopulmonary resuscitation--ECPR.

Just a few years ago an imaginative Baltimore doctor developed a method of restoring normal rhythm to a heart in ventricular fibrillation, a serious arrhythmia that is

Later, he became the co-developer of external cardiac compression, a procedure that has already restored to normal function thousands of stopped hearts.

This maker of medical history is Dr. William R. Kouwenhoven. It is all the more remarkable that he is not a physician, but rather a doctor of engineering. His medical collaborator in both projects was Dr. James R. Jude, now of Miami. Together, they have opened a doorway of hope for many heart attack victims, who, in other circumstances, might perish.

External cardiopulmonary resuscitation, used in combination with the more familiar mouth-to-mouth breathing, is a procedure to be used following "cardiac arrest" - a term describing sudden cessation of circulatory function. The idea is to keep oxygenated blood flowing to the brain until appropriate medical treatment can be applied to restore normal heart action. Many times the heart restarts spontaneously.

ECPR is done by depressing and then releasing the sternum, or breast bone, in such a manner as to squeeze the heart against the vertebral column, then permitting the heart to relax. As a result, an artificial but adequate circulation is maintained. The procedure is most effective when used in conjunction with mouth-to-mouth breathing. Many times the heart starts spontaneously during this procedure.

External cardiopulmonary resuscitation is for application only by a trained person, and, in many instances, can save the victim of cardiac arrest -- especially if resuscitation maneuvers are started promptly, never later than four minutes after the arrest occurs.

To meet the training need, Heart Associ-

ON BEHALF OF THE CANDIDACY OF

GEORGE S. WHITE

FOR SELECTMAN

We wish to comment on the candidacy of George S. White for the office of Selectman for the benefit of those many new citizens in the town who are not acquainted with his long and excellent record of service to the community. George White served as a selectman of Mattapoisett for 20 years during the period of 1948 through 1968. During that term of service, George White earned and won the respect of all, even those with whom he disagreed, as a person of unimpeachable honesty -- forthright in all of his dealings -- and willing to speak and defend his views on their merit. He demonstrated a continuing concern for the welfare of all of the citizens of the community; to his task, he brought native ability, enormous energy and a broad experience.

We urge those of you who are not acquainted with George White to enquire his reputation among those who have known him over the years and then to vote as your conscience dictates.

Musical in Production

THIS YEAR...IT'S "WEST SIDE STORY"

The eighth major musical production to be presented at Old Rochester Regional High School in the ten-year history of the school is reaching its final planning stage. Area residents may look forward to the evenings of March 19th and 20th when the talented students of the Music and Drama Departments will be staging "West Side Story".

"West Side Story" is a contemporary version of the beautiful and poignant story of Romeo and Juliet, reflecting the problems brought on by juvenile gang warfare. The title indicates the setting of the story, which is the upper west side of New York's Manhattan Island, where in the mid-fifties, a sudden inflow of Puerto Rican immigrants to the area, increased the seething tensions in those decaying, overcrowded slums.

This is a "serious" musical, almost epic opera in dramatic content, with a spectacular score by that dynamic master musician, Leonard Bernstein. "West Side Story" opened in New York at the famous Winter Garden Theater in the Fall of 1957 for a sensationally long run, and was seen by millions more, when the award winning film version was released in 1963.

Director and choreographer of this production is Mrs. Nancylee Gaucher, who has masterminded a fabulous succession of audience pleasing stage shows at Old Rochester since her appointment as Senior Drama Coach there. The ingenious Mrs. Gaucher merits all accolades for the recent O.R. presentations of "Oliver!", "The Crucible", "George M!", and "Charley's Aunt".

Old Rochester Music Supervisor, Mr. Gary Thomas will direct the show "pit" orchestra of eighteen carefully selected and most knowledgeable musicians.

The convening group heard a message from Apollo 14 Commander Alan B. Shepard, Jr., who praised the group for "achievement and outstanding service".

Shepard's message, read by Walker L. Cisler, president of the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation, urged the group to continue "development of (their) special talents...to sustain the fulfillment of mankind's difficult long-range goals."

(Aquarius, Jan. 21—Feb. 19)

Naturally rebellious, the Aquarian's temperament can be ruined by too conventional a life, but he is one of the most trainable, having brain to train and the swift flash of genius to bring ideas to use.

They are freedom-loving, original and independent but limited in that they often stress their ideas to the neglect of all else. They are also fixed and find it difficult to adapt themselves to other ways, or even to see that there are other points of view besides their own.

Aquarians have acquired the blue carnation as their flower, the sapphire as their birthstone and the ability to gather wisdom from knowledge their principal characteristic.

Another message for the students and teachers was from President Nixon who praised the group for "deciding to use (their) talents to further the scientific progress of our society".

Some 18 leading scientists and educators from around the country spoke to and "rapped" informally with the students and teachers in such areas as ecology, oceanography, astronomy, sociology, chemistry, genetics and biology. Gov. Francis W. Sargent opened the symposium on Wednesday.

TIME IS RUNNING OUT

Sewage is a dirty word, but let's not turn our backs on it. It is the prime pollutant and destroyer of our natural resources.

The key to Mattapoisett's attractiveness is its natural resources; its river, beaches, marshes and shellfishing. If Mattapoisett is to remain the Mattapoisett we are all so fond of, action must be taken now to prevent the additional pollution of these areas which are already being threatened.

With the support of you, the voters of Mattapoisett, I would like the opportunity to put my education and working knowledge in engineering to use, for the Town, in an attempt to prevent further destruction of what helps to make Mattapoisett such an enjoyable place in which to live.

Mattapoisett firemen extinguish burning roof of boat shed beside furnace.

Boat Yard on Mattapoisett Neck last Friday. The metal was being melted down in an outside furnace when it exploded through the top of the brick structure throwing burning metal at 5000° over a wide area. The shed beside the building caught fire as well as grass in surrounding fields. Magnesium is the metal used in incendiary bombs, burns even under water, and is extremely difficult to extinguish. Mattapoisett firemen responded so promptly to the call and put out the blaze so quickly that damage was relatively minor and estimated at about $500.

The metal had been purchased from a dealer under the understanding that it was manganese.

Pollution is the overriding concern in our lives. If we want a better world we must be sure that it is not poisoned out of existence before we can achieve our goal. I think that local boards of health can contribute to our efforts. I would like to be a part of this and would appreciate your vote in the coming town election.
